

FENAVIN Match will bring together a diverse selection of Spanish wines and spotlight the industry's latest trends at an exclusive business event

- The event will feature exhibiting wineries from wine regions across Spain, along with emerging projects and specialized producers with a clear commercial focus

Ciudad Real, May 8, 2026. FENAVIN Match, the new business platform for the wine sector, will be held on June 2 and 3 at IFEDI (Ciudad Real). The event will bring together a broad representation of Spain's wine sector and spotlight the industry's latest trends in a format designed exclusively for business and professional networking.

The event will feature exhibiting wineries from wine regions across the country, alongside emerging projects and producers embracing new consumer trends as the market continues to evolve.

The Vice President of the Ciudad Real Provincial Council, Sonia González, states that "FENAVIN Match was created to bring together specialized trade professionals and generate real business opportunities for exhibiting wineries." She also emphasizes that "the diversity of territories, styles, and production models represented in this new edition demonstrates the strength and richness of Spanish wine."

Exhibitors with quality-focused wine portfolios

The extensive exhibitor list reflects the diversity, richness, and innovative capacity of the sector, with wineries from historic appellations such as La Mancha, Ribera del Duero, Rioja, Rías Baixas, Rueda, Toro, Jumilla, and Cava, showcasing the commercial and export strength of Spain's leading wine regions.

The lineup will also include projects from regions with a strong individual identity and growing international appeal. These include the appellations of origin Campo de Calatrava, one of Spain's few recognized volcanic wine regions; Cebreros, a benchmark for high-altitude Garnacha with growing international recognition; Ribeira Sacra and El Bierzo. These regions have gained prominence in recent years thanks to their distinctive characteristics, native varieties, and production models closely tied to their place of origin.

FENAVIN Match will also feature wineries specializing in organic wines and Vinos de Pago estates such as Dehesa del Carrizal, Vallegarcía, Río Negro, La Jaraba, and El Vicario; as well as wines tailored to emerging consumer profiles, including low-alcohol and alcohol-free wines, expanding categories that reflect the evolution of international markets and new consumer preferences.

FENAVIN Match will include companies linked to historic fortified wine regions such as DOP Jerez-Xérès-Sherry and DOP Montilla-Moriles, as well as organic production projects, varietal wines, and wineries with halal or kosher certifications.

In addition, DOCa Priorat and DOP Montsant will also be present, strengthening the representation of wines from high-altitude Mediterranean vineyards and Priorat's traditional llicorella slate soils. The event will also include wines from Atlantic areas such as DOP Ribeiro, DOP Monterrei, and DOP Valdeorras, reflecting the rise of fresh, mineral-driven wines and native Galician varieties.

Castilla-La Mancha will once again play a prominent role in the event, with the participation of wineries from different quality designations in the region such as VT Castilla; DOP La Mancha; DOP Valdepeñas; DOP Almansa; DOP Ribera del Júcar; and DOP Campo de Calatrava. This representation reinforces the region's position as one of the key engines of the wine sector in Spain and internationally.

Under the slogan "Only contacts, only opportunities, only business," FENAVIN Match continues to consolidate its position as a specialized platform for internationalization, commercial development, and the creation of new opportunities within the wine sector.
